

Quality Policy

We pursue business activities centered around our core strengths in construction and engineering services under the Taisei Group Philosophy of “to create a vibrant environment for all members of society.” We aim to contribute to society by developing a safe and comfortable infrastructure and living environment, and to evolve continuously as a company.

Our key mission is to provide our clients and society with high-quality construction products and related services in an efficient and stable manner.

To achieve this mission, we will pursue our business activities according to the following Norms of Conduct.

Norms of Conduct

1. To provide high-quality, high-performance construction products, we will promote research and development of advanced technologies that anticipate future social needs.
2. In providing construction products and related services, we will meet the requirements of our clients while complying with the relevant contractual terms, laws, regulations, and standards.
3. To maintain and improve the quality and performance of our construction products on a long-term basis, we will provide the necessary services throughout the lifecycle of the products.
4. To ensure that the quality of our construction products and related services is maintained and improved, we will continue to maintain and enhance our quality management system.

June 2020

Yoshiro Aikawa

Representative Director, President and Chief Executive Officer

Taisei Corporation